

The Golden Acorn Challenge Jesus said it was good to be humble. But what does being humble mean?
Does it mean that you feel lousy about yourself. No!

A humble person:

- thinks about the other person before himself.
- treats others the way he would like to be treated.
- gives credit to God for all his gifts and talents.
- notices other people's gifts and talents.
- is kind to others when he wins.
- congratulates the winner when he loses.
- plays by the rules.
- listens when other people talk.
- says nice things about other people.

Below is a list of ways to practice being humble. Every time you do one of these things, draw a golden acorn in the box.

Thank God for a gift or talent.	Say something nice about someone.	Congratulate a winner.	Tell someone they did something well.	Say thank you to someone who does not usually get thanked.	Help someone do something he/she finds hard.	Do something nice for someone.
Congratulate a winner.	Thank God for a gift or talent.	Do something that is someone else's job.	Do something nice for someone.	Work to get better at something you find hard.	Say something nice about someone.	Tell someone they did something well.
Do something nice for someone.	Say something nice about someone.	Thank God for a gift or talent.	Help someone do something he/she finds hard.	Make a thank you card for someone.	Work to get better at something you find hard.	Say you're sorry for something you did that hurt someone else.
Say thank you to someone who does not usually get thanked.	Tell someone they did something well.	Say something nice about someone.	Thank God for a gift or talent.	Congratulate a winner.	Do something that is someone else's job.	Make a thank you card for someone.
Admit a mistake.	Notice a gift or talent that someone else has. Tell him/her what you noticed.	Listen to someone who needs to talk.	Say something nice about someone.	Thank God for a gift or talent.	Do something nice for someone.	Kneel down to pray – because God is God!
